A fun graphic novel based on a newer cartoon series

By Wayne A McCoy

"The Loud House #1: "Fullest House"" by Chris Savino is a graphic novel based on the new Nickelodeon show.

Lincoln Loud is a middle child. He has 10 sisters, 5 older and 5 younger. Each sister has her own personality, and it's tough for Lincoln to do simple things like watch television.

Along with some short comics, there are some comics with Lincoln looking for the remote. These comics feature Lincoln and one member of the house. At the end, the reader can choose to ask a different member of the house and turn to that page to find out what happens. It's a fun kind of choose your own adventure.

The art is fun. The characters are a bit one-dimensional, but that's to be expected from a cartoon with so many characters. There is an interview with the creator of the series included. I've never seen this cartoon, but the graphic novel was a lot of fun to read.

I received a review copy of this graphic novel from Papercutz and NetGalley in exchange for an honest review. Thank you for allowing me to review this graphic novel.
