Everybody thinks Gary's Grampa died in a fishing accident. But from a note Grampa left, Gary suspects he was murdered. The note tells of a million dollars in gold hidden in a cave and an old Indian curse promising that anyone who touches it will die! Gary and his friend Brian are sure that if they find the gold, they will also find Grampa's killer.

But treasure hunting can be deadly. Now they are stuck in a dark cavern full of tangled skeletons, restless Indian spirits, and a murderer out for their blood! Will Brian and Gary ever get out of Death Cave alive!

It is a classic mystery that my students love. They beg me not to stop reading as the plot builds. One of my students loved the book so much that he went on to read 12 more of his books and chose Bill Wallace as his research author study. I bought several books to replace some of my worn out copies.

Exciting, easy to read for 10-12 year olds.

By Retired teacher Jo

As a teacher, I used this novel with my 6th graders early in the school year. It had lots of adventure, a little suspense, and humor. It was a good starter novel for the year.
