Magic!!

By Pat Feely

This book will seriously improve your creative writing.

It will also improve your vocabulary - it has mine, I even keep a 'vocabulary notebook' now. It is ideal for students at any level of ability, as it guides the student through five levels of skill by classifying words in grids, and providing copious examples of five levels of descriptive writing from Basic Sentences (Level 1) to Complex Writing (Level 5). The author also explains how to plan your writing with the grids.

All five of the sensory modalities (VAKOG) are presented throughout - Visual, Auditory, Kinaesthetic, Olfactory, and Gustatory. So, everyone's dominant learning modality is included.

It is easy to see how useful this book is for teachers, parents, students of English, and for novices like me who have only just begun dipping a tentative toe in the sparkling and stimulating pool of creative writing.

The various narrative styles of writing are described simply and comprehensively.

Figures of speech are defined and described, and the author provides numerous examples of each. He also flags the use of these figures of speech in the sample essays of the five Levels of descriptive writing. The use of examples throughout is fundamental to the student's progress towards looking at the world with an 'artist's eye'.

And there is much, much more.

Just when I thought it couldn't get any better, right at the end of the book we are presented with a treasure trove of 200 magical words, and as a bonus, the most beautiful word in the English language! The exercise suggested by the author using these magical words will definitely improve your English skills.

I highly recommend this book.

Very impressed with this!

By Laura B

I bought both the Writing with Stardust book and workbook and as a package they are excellent.

I love the way the books are designed in grids of 10 words. It makes it really user friendly and so simple to learn from. The essays are really impressive and are packed with unique and original expressions a lot of which were completely new to me. For example "the monk hum of the bees" is very creative.

There are a lot of useful tips and techniques on how to write as well as what to write.

I would recommend this book to anyone wishing to improve and enhance their writing skills.

It's a very clever book and I loved it.
